

10 KEY INSIGHTS REPORT FROM THE 2024 LOK SABHA AND ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS

- 1. BJP Dominance in Arunachal Pradesh: The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) secured a significant majority in Arunachal Pradesh, winning 46 out of 60 assembly constituencies, which highlights its strong influence in the state.
- 2. Uncontested Win: In Arunachal Pradesh, the BJP candidate Pema Khandu won the Mukto constituency uncontested, indicating a lack of opposition strength or strategic moves by other parties in this region.
- 3. Mixed Results in Arunachal Pradesh: Despite BJP's dominance, smaller parties and independents also have a presence. NPEP won 5 seats, NCP secured 3 seats, PPA gained 2 seats, INC won 1 seat, and Independents took 3 seats.
- 4. Sikkim Krantikari Morcha's Sweep: In Sikkim, the Sikkim Krantikari Morcha (SKM) won 31 out of 32 seats, displaying an overwhelming victory and dominance in the state.

5. Close Competition in Sikkim: Despite SKM's sweep, the Sikkim Democratic Front (SDF) managed to secure 1 seat, showcasing some level of competition.
6. TDP Success in Andhra Pradesh: The Telugu Desam Party (TDP) won a substantial majority in Andhra Pradesh, securing 135 out of 175 seats, indicating strong voter support.
7. Presence of Janasena Party in Andhra Pradesh: The Janasena Party (JnP) secured 21 seats in Andhra Pradesh, marking its influence and presence as a significant player in the state politics.
8. BJD and BJP Competition in Odisha: In Odisha, the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) won 78 out of 147 seats, while the Biju Janata Dal (BJD) secured 51 seats, indicating a competitive political landscape between these two parties.
9. Congress and CPI(M) in Odisha: The Indian National Congress (INC) won 14 seats in Odisha, while the Communist Party of India (Marxist) (CPI(M)) managed to win only 1 seat.

10. Bye Elections Results: The bye elections saw a variety of party victories across different states, with the BJP, INC, and other regional parties like the Samajwadi Party and All India Trinamool Congress winning seats, indicating diverse political dynamics in different regions.